Yahoo's drama could end immediately after the failed attempts of his CEO, Marissa Mayer, trying to save the ship. According to Forbes, Verizon is the new owner The Legendary Internet Company. Verizon would have presented an offer for $ 3 billion dollars, which would be a very low figure of what Yahoo really was worth. However, Verizon's interest focuses only on the web properties, leaving the rest aside the company that may still direct Mayer. Other companies interested in at least some of Yahoo include TPG, Adventit, Vista Equity Partners and Quick Preors, which is directed by Dan Gilbert (who owns the team of Cleveland Cavaliers, of the NBA). Yahoo's future does not seem very promising, at least very promising not so independent and with evaluations so low, we do not know with certainty that it holds all those who continue to work for that company today. Due to it, it is free, as always. Don't forget to follow us and comment on Facebook. In Chulucanas the XIII International Meeting of writers called Manuel Jesus Baquerizo is held.
